About Pan-Atlantic University

Formally established in 2002, the Pan-Atlantic University (PAU) is owned by the Pan-Atlantic University Foundation (PAUF), a Nigerian not-for-profit foundation registered under the Companies and Allied Matters Act of 1990.

The seeds of the University were sown in 1992 with the establishment of the Lagos Business School (LBS), which started offering executive education programmes in that year. The LBS thus became the first school of the University.

The promoters of the University were inspired by the teachings of Saint Josemaría Escrivá, Founder of the Roman Catholic organisation, Opus Dei, on the central role of work in the lives of individuals and communities, work as service, and the importance of educating people in responsible freedom. In accordance with these principles, the Pan-Atlantic University was established to be a centre of excellence in teaching and research with the mission of preparing competent and upright professionals who can make a positive contribution to the development of society.

Today, the University is made of the following units:

The School of Management and Social Sciences (SMSS) formerly known as the School of Business Administration (SBA)

The Lagos Business School (LBS)

The School of Media and Communication (SMC)

The School of Science and Technology (SST)

The Enterprise Development Centre (EDC), which is involved in capacity building for Small and Medium sized Enterprises (SMEs).

The Institute of Humanities (IOH), which serves the schools in providing the students with a strong foundation in the humanities and general education.

In November, 2014, Pan-Atlantic University welcomed its first set of undergraduate students, and this heralded the start of another chapter in the history of the University.

Mission Statement

The Mission Statement of the University is: "to form competent and committed professionals and encourage them to serve with personal initiative and social responsibility the community in which they work, thereby helping to build a better society in Nigeria and Africa at large."

Statement of Principles

1. The University is founded on Christian principles and ideals.

2. The teachings of Saint Josemaría Escrivá, Founder of Opus Dei, on the central role of work in the lives of individuals and communities, work as service, the importance of educating people in responsible freedom, the brotherhood of all human beings, the unity of life, and the significance of what is apparently small, have been the main source of inspiration of the promoters of Pan-Atlantic University.

3. In order to faithfully adhere to the principles on which it is founded, the University counts on the spiritual assistance of the Prelature of Opus Dei, which also provides pastoral care to all those members of the University who freely desire to receive it.

4. The University is open to all people regardless of their nationality, race, sex, religion or ethnic group.

5. The University is non-residential. The University may, however, at its discretion provide accommodation for some members of staff and students.

Opus Dei and Pan-Atlantic University

Opus Dei and Its Mission

Opus Dei's purpose is to contribute to the Church's evangelizing mission. In particular, it aims to spread the Christian message that every single person is called to holiness. This teaching was at the heart of the Second Vatican Council, which was enormously influential in shaping the Catholic Church's understanding of what it means to be a follower of Christ in the modem world.

The Founder

Saint Josemaría Escrivá (1902-1975) founded Opus Dei in 1928. Even during his lifetime he had a reputation for holiness, which continued to grow around the world after his death. He was declared blessed in 1992 and a saint in 2002 by Pope John Paul II. The feast day of Saint Josemaría is June 26.

Membership

People of all kinds belong to Opus Dei: priests and lay people, men and women, young and old, married and single, persons of every occupation and social level. Men and women have the same status in Opus Dei. Most members are married and have families. Some members make a commitment to celibacy, and so generally have more time and availability to dedicate to the various activities promoted by Opus Dei.

Opus Dei & the University

The founders of Pan-Atlantic University were inspired to begin this educational project by the teachings of the founder of Opus Dei. Furthermore, the Prelature of Opus Dei provides the necessary spiritual and pastoral means in order that the University may maintain and develop its Christian identity. The Prelature of Opus Dei takes responsibility for guaranteeing that all teaching, publishing and research activities in PAU are inspired by the Christian view of the person, the world and society, and manifest a coherent union between faith, thought and life.

The Christian inspiration of the Pan-Atlantic University moves it to promote student participation in activities of solidarity and teaches them to dedicate part of their time to those most in need. In this way, they gain consciousness of their responsibility to serve society with their future work.

ACADEMIC LIFE

The Basis of Education at PAU

Education at the Pan-Atlantic University is based on the Christian concept of the human person. Within this conception, the human person is seen as an integral being made up of spiritual and material aspects. The education at PAU takes into consideration that the human person is destined for supernatural fulfilment, which is the ultimate end of the person. As a result, the University lays emphasis on providing an all-round education that aims to form human persons in accordance with their nature and destination.

The educational formation at PAU is therefore holistic and focuses on the integral or unified person as a being composed of body and soul. It is also personal and takes into account the uniqueness of each person. This last aspect is necessarily expressed in details of personal attention. Thus, a personalised education is central to learning at PAU, and emphasis is laid on educating each student as an individual. As such, priority is given to mentoring, and students are encouraged to form habits of independent thinking, not rote learning.

The non-material dimension of the person is given due consideration in this education. It is important to understand this non-material or spiritual aspect correctly. In this regard, attention is paid to the intellectual, psychological, socio-cultural, and supernatural aspects of formation.

Intellectual formation consists of a knowledge formation in depth and in lifelong learning. It facilitates the development of skill-sets which will lead to workplace efficiency and effectiveness. It also equips the person with critical thinking skills.

Psychological formation is training towards emotional intelligence, emotional balance, attitudinal formation and freedom with responsibility.

Socio-cultural formation trains the person in humanistic values (including taste), ethical values (including character), etiquette and good manners as well as responsibility and service to society.

Supernatural formation takes place above all in the context of personal and religious freedom. PAU is rigorously respectful of the religious beliefs of all students.

The Basis of Education at PAU

The University never forces its religious principles or beliefs on anyone. Nevertheless, all persons are encouraged to pursue their ultimate end, i.e. their supernatural destination.

Some other important aspects of the education at PAU are the following: unity of life, freedom, appropriateness to the Nigerian environment.

Unity of life: we try to help our students develop unity of life such that their professional, family, social and religious lives constitute a harmonious whole, which facilitates the health and wellbeing of the entire person.

Freedom: this is the basis of the education given at PAU. Education is given in an atmosphere of mutual respect, which takes into consideration the ability of the recipients to make informed decisions. The University is not interested in a merely external conformity on the part of its students. Rather, right conduct as well as the observance of regulations and laid down procedure must be based on an understanding and acceptance of the underlying principles.

Thus, the freedom of each person is respected while at the same time the responsibility contingent to that freedom is demanded. It is hoped that everyone will learn to appreciate this freedom as a great gift.

Appropriateness to the Nigerian environment: A constant effort is made to ensure that the education offered at PAU remains relevant to the local context. In addition to being essential for the future professional life of our students, this is necessary if the University is to live up to its mission of helping to build a better society in Nigeria.

Accordingly, members of faculty make a constant effort to produce locally sourced cases and to carry out consultancy work, and all this experience enriches the classroom teaching.

Mentoring

Every student at Pan-Atlantic University is assigned a mentor. The mentor is usually a member of faculty or staff of the University who will provide you with guidance in making the right choices for your professional and personal growth.

Students are advised to make the best of this unique feature of the education we offer at PAU.

All tuition fees must be paid on or before exams to be eligible to write the exams. All exceptions must be approved by the UMC/PC.

Where it is impractical for the UMC/PC to hold a meeting because of the nearness to the exam date, such approval could be obtained from the members through email.

8.0. INTRA-UNIVERSITY TRANSFER

If a student changes the course of study through the intra-university transfer policy, the student will pay the appropriate fees for the new programme. The original fee invoice for that academic year for the course the student is transferring from will be credited to the student.

9.0. DEFERMENT AND WITHDRAWAL

Newly admitted undergraduate students who wish to defer their admission in line with the university policy will pay a deferment fee of 10% of the tuition fee for the programme. When a student temporarily withdraws the tuition fee applicable to them will be handled in line with clause 2.3 above.

Mode of Student Assessment

Students are assessed through a combination of class attendance, continuous assessment and final examinations at the end of the semester.

a) Class attendance: students must attain a minimum of 80% class attendance in order to qualify to write examinations in any course for which they are registered. Students who do not make this requirement for attendance cannot write final examinations in the courses affected. The only exceptions to this general rule are when a student is absent due to proven health reasons, serving a suspension or other extenuating circumstances approved by Senate (currently, the only extenuating circumstance approved by Senate is the situation where students are kept out of class for default in payment of tuition fees). However, students who find themselves in this situation must have achieved at least 65% of attendance to be eligible for final examinations in the affected courses.

b) Continuous assessments: the assessment of students is continuous and takes place throughout the learning process and not only at the end. This continuous assessment makes it possible to evaluate and track the improvement or otherwise of the student over a period of time. Through this means, it is possible to provide greater support and guidance at the right moments. The methods of continuous assessment are class tests/quizzes, class presentations, projects and take home assignments. These various evaluations are spaced out over the course of each semester.

c) Examination: In addition to the continuous assessment, students will have a final assessment at the end of each course. This assessment will take place at the end of each semester through examinations.

Grading System

Grades will be awarded based on the scores of the students as follows:

Percent Score	Grade Point	Letter Grade
70 - 100	5.0	A
60 - 69.9	4.0	B
50 -59.9	3.0	C
45 - 49.9	2.0	D
0 - 44.9	0.0	F

For the purpose of description, a score below 2 grade points constitutes a failure.

The following qualifications shall be applied to grades:

A	Very Good
B	Good
C	Fair
D	Pass
F	Poor performance

To obtain the Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) of the student, the grade point assigned to the mark obtained in each course is multiplied by the units of that course. The total from all the courses is added up to give the total weighted grade point. This total is then divided by the total number of units taken by the student to give the grade point average. For the purpose of calculating a student's CGPA, grades obtained in all the courses, whether compulsory or optional and whether passed or failed, must be included in the computation.

Academic Probation

To remain in the University, students will be required to ensure that their CGPA does not fall below a certain minimum standard. If a student's CGPA falls below 1.5 at the end of any semester, the student will be placed on probation. If the student fails to improve and, after one semester of probation, his/her CGPA remains below 1.5, that student will be asked to withdraw from the University.

STUDENT LIFE

The Chaplaincy

The spiritual and pastoral attention in the PAU is entrusted to the Catholic Prelature of Opus Dei, and the University Chaplaincy is looked after by priests of the Prelature. The PAU Chaplaincy organizes various activities and offers its service to every member of the University community that desires it.

The campus possesses a Catholic chapel, which is open to anyone who chooses to use it for the purpose of private prayer and reflection. Mass is celebrated in the chapel daily, and other acts of piety are also organized there.

The priests of the Chaplaincy are available for those who might wish to speak with them or to seek advice and orientation in their personal and spiritual lives. Anyone who chooses to do so can fix appointments with them for that purpose.

Medical Services

The PAU Clinic is located on the ground floor of the female Cooperative hall of residence but can only be accessed from its back gate.

Option A: If you are coming from the hostel area or main gate,
- walk towards the basketball/volleyball courts.
- take the first turn to your right onto the concrete slab pathway leading to the basketball/volleyball courts
- the entrance to the clinic is on your right.

Option B: If you are coming from the TYD/SST Buildings,
- from the entrance foyer of both buildings, walk towards the concrete slab pathway leading to the basketball/volleyball courts.
- the entrance to the clinic is on your right.

Serious medical cases are referred to a secondary healthcare facility. Students are required to sign up for health insurance. This is provided through Health Management Organisations (HMOs). The group health insurance is compulsory for all students.

Self-Medication

It is an unacceptable practice for anyone to take prescription drugs without prescription from medical personnel. Self-medication can lead to misuse and abuse of drugs when the drugs are either taken without medical diagnosis or taken above the prescribed limits.

Also, the use of over-the-counter drugs should be done with the guidance of medical personnel to avoid overdosing and possible drug abuse.

Please note that if any student fails a drug test; the use of medications without a prescription cannot be accepted as an excuse. Make use of the clinic at all times. Avoid self-medication.

Student Organisations

Student organisations consist of clubs set up and run by students to promote activities that form students intellectually, culturally and professionally. Clubs could be academically oriented, sports oriented, service oriented etc.

The following are requirements for starting a student organisation:

Application of the Code

The provisions of this Code of Conduct on non-academic misconduct apply within the University campus. Except a provision explicitly provides otherwise, the provisions of this Code of Conduct shall also apply beyond the campus in the following instances:

- If a student tests positive in a drug test and cannot offer a reasonable explanation for this, the provisions of the code will still apply even if the drugs were taken outside the campus.
- When there are other cases of gross misconduct that bring the University to disrepute.
- The provisions of this code shall also apply beyond the University campus whenever six or more PAU students act together as a group. This applies also to online closed groups of PAU students. The term 'closed group' refers to any online community of only PAU students.

Please see application of code to external accommodation on the Student Accommodation page

Category B: Non-academic misconduct

Type 1: Misconduct which attract expulsion

- Membership or patronage of a secret cult

(A cult for the purpose of this code of conduct is defined as any organization, body, membership, group of persons etc. registered or not whose actions or activities or objectives preach, encourage, promote or instigate any immoral or illegal or violent activity or any other act or behaviour which is not in conformity with the rules and regulation of the institution as determined by the Management Council of the University) sexual relations with a person under the age of 18 or exploiting persons under the age of 18 sexually in other ways including but not limited to the acquisition, possession or distribution of pornographic images, by whatever means or using whatever technology. Note that consent by the minor is no excuse. These also apply to vulnerable adults. The term "vulnerable adult" is understood as any person in a state of infirmity, physical or mental deficiency, or deprivation of personal liberty which, in fact, even occasionally, limits their ability to understand or to want or otherwise resist the offence.)

The Student Disciplinary Process

The disciplinary process will usually be anchored around four major steps:

- Incident reporting and investigation
- Hearing and resolution
- Implementation of sanction
- Appeal

Incident Reporting and Investigation

Once a report of misconduct is made by faculty, staff or students to any Head of Unit, Head of Department or the Student Affairs Department a record is made and a preliminary investigation carried out immediately. This preliminary investigation is to determine if there has been a disciplinary infraction and the appropriate next steps to take.

When the incident being reported borders on the suspicion of sexual abuse, a written record should be made of the report by the one who receives it. This report should not contain any details that identify the alleged victim. If the alleged victim or the reporting party (if not the victim) files this as a formal report, they are to sign the report as long as they have no objections. If they are not willing to, they should not be forced to sign the formal report. This can be stated as a note at the end of the report in place of the signature.

Once the University comes to the knowledge of misconduct that involves the sexual abuse of a minor, the Student Affairs Department must inform the parents of the minor. (When the only source of information about an incident of this type comes from what the victim has mentioned to a person of the University they trust, it should not be transmitted to the parents without the permission of the victim. Kindly note that confidential information given under the seal of secrecy must be kept, save in exceptional cases where keeping the secret is bound to cause very grave harm to the one who confided it and where very grave harm can be avoided only by disclosing the truth.).

The alleged victim will be offered spiritual and psychological assistance through the Student Support Services.

Hearing and Resolution

If, after carrying out a preliminary investigation, it is believed that a student or group of students may have committed some grave misconduct the matter will be referred to the appropriate Disciplinary Committee who will determine the culpability or innocence of the students and decide on appropriate sanctions.

The student will be informed of all the allegations against him and informed of the evidence given in support of the allegations and the statements made. The student is then given a fair opportunity to correct and/or contradict the evidence in his response.

If the Disciplinary Committee decides that the appropriate sanction is to expel a student, the matter will be referred to Senate for a final decision. In other cases, the sanction decided by the Disciplinary Committee, barring any appeals, will take effect.

All breaches of discipline will go to a proper hearing of the Disciplinary Committee.

In accordance with the provisions of the PAU Constitution, the Vice-Chancellor may exclude any student from the University or any part thereof until the next meeting of Senate.

Implementation

The decisions in a disciplinary hearing are communicated in writing to the student, his parents or guardian and University stakeholders such as the Dean of the student's school. Documentation of the entire process shall be kept in the disciplinary case files and copied to the student's file.

Appeal

Any student, on whom a sanction has been imposed, has a right to an appeal. The following are the bodies to which appeals can be made:

- Appeals Committee— All Appeals
- To the Senate— Sanctions of Expulsion
- To the Governing Council— Sanctions imposed by the Senate

Students who wish to appeal against penalties imposed on them must do so within two weeks of the date the sanction was communicated to them. Once a student files an appeal the application of the sanction is suspended until the appeal has been decided.

Generally, there is right to only one appeal. However, when the penalty imposed is expulsion from the University, or withdrawal of a degree, there is always a right of final appeal to the Governing Council.

Please note that an appeal can only be made to the appropriate higher body only if the appellant is contesting the outcome of a disciplinary panel.

Students sanctioned for the same misconduct should all be equally accorded an appeal hearing in a case where one of them appeals and the appeal is granted.

Student Grievance Mechanism

Any student of Pan-Atlantic University who feels aggrieved can seek redress through the student grievance mechanism. Issues for grievance resolution would be alleged violations by any member of the university community, any rules or policies of the student's school or of the University in general which directly affects the student.

The student grievance mechanism is aimed at providing a fair hearing to any aggrieved student. The opinions or concerns of students are never taken for granted in the University. Students should lodge their grievances with the Director of Student Affairs.

Usually the first step is to resolve the matter in an informal setting where the parties deliberate and try to resolve the issue. Where this fails the matter will be referred to appropriate officers. Where the matter involves an infraction of University policy the appropriate disciplinary process will be invoked.

Student Accommodation

It is not compulsory for students of Pan-Atlantic University to live in halls of residence on the University campus or in hostels, outside the campus, officially approved by the University. Students are free to live with their families or make their own living arrangements.

However, whenever three or more students of the University live together in the same place the rules regulating halls of residence of the University shall apply. Halls of residence in the University are exclusively occupied by either male or female students and no mixed accommodation is allowed.

Alcohol Policy

Pan-Atlantic University abides by and expects members of its community to abide by the laws governing the sale, purchase and consumption of alcoholic beverages in Nigeria. To this end the use of alcoholic beverages all over the University will be in accordance to guidelines set by the University.

Rationale

The legal drinking age in Nigeria is 18 years and Pan-Atlantic University as a good corporate citizen upholds this law. It has adopted this law and will implement it for the health and well-being of the university community. This is done to protect the members of the community who are below the drinking age and also those who through abuse may constitute a danger to themselves and other members of the community.

The University does not ban the responsible use of alcoholic beverages by university community members above the legal drinking age. However the fact that there will always be members of the community who are below the legal drinking age places certain restrictions on all in the community.

Policy

- The only alcoholic beverages which may be sold, served and consumed in the University are beers and non-fortified wines.
- Sale and consumption of liqueurs and spirits are prohibited.
- Possession, sale and consumption of all alcoholic drinks are prohibited in the Halls of Residence.

- Permitted alcoholic beverages may be purchased, served to and consumed by students of legal drinking age at places approved by the University. Places approved for consumption and sale of alcohol on campus include Meals Delight restaurant and the Minimart (Clare Ebere) at the Student Centre.
- Outside of these circumstances the purchase and consumption of alcohol is prohibited.
- Inappropriate behaviour of any kind directed towards or resulting from the use of alcohol is unacceptable.

Guidelines

Violations of the alcohol policy could, depending on the gravity, lead to suspension. The following though not exhaustive give an indication of things to avoid.

- Under no circumstance should a student under 18 years consume alcohol.
- Public intoxication
- Driving while intoxicated
- Causing a disturbance due to alcohol intoxication
- Possession of alcohol in public spaces
- Binge drinking

Scope

The scope of this policy covers the Main Campus of the University.

Appendix

1. As stipulated in the revised alcohol policy recently approved by Senate, any student under the age of 18 suspected of taking alcohol or any other student suspected to be tipsy, intoxicated or drunk shall upon request by a security officer, submit himself/herself to alcohol test approved by the University.
2. Security officers of the University shall use the non-contact type of Breathalyzer as the instrument for alcohol tests.
3. To administer the test, student takes a deep breath and blows into the breathalyzer.
4. An under-aged student shall be deemed to have failed the test if result of the test is a Blood Alcohol Concentration (BAC) equal to or greater than 0.01g/100mL.
5. A student above 18 fails the test if the BAC is equal to or greater than 0.05g/mL.

Smoking Policy

Overview

Pan-Atlantic University is adopting a smoking policy that is in keeping with the laws of the country. It also seeks to protect the rights of smokers and non-smokers alike. The document sets out in a general way the guidelines of maintaining a smoke-free university campus.

Rationale

The laws of Nigeria prohibit smoking in any institution of higher learning except where designated smoking areas are provided.

Access to tobacco is also restricted to those who are above 18 years of age.

There are also genuine health concerns about the effect of passive smoking.

Finally, we run the risk of smoking initiation especially by minors, and the improper disposal of cigarette butt causing tobacco litter on the campus.

Policy

- Smoking is prohibited in the University, except;
  - In designated smoking areas (the green area in front of the Student Centre, the area immediately behind the TY Danjuma Academic Complex), and
  - in private areas of University houses used as the primary residence of members of staff.
- Sale of tobacco product is also prohibited in the University.
- Students who are below 18 years of age are advised to stay away from tobacco products.
- Consistent violation will be subject to disciplinary actions.

Scope

This policy applies to all students and staff in the main campus of Pan-Atlantic University (PAU). It applies within all of the University's land including all areas reserved for external developers. For avoidance of doubt this policy applies in all the areas in and around the Student Centre, the Sports arena, the Campus proper, all the roads and open spaces within the University's land. This policy will serve as a guide to faculty and designated PAU staff (e.g security) for enforcement.

Drug Testing Policy

Overview

Pan-Atlantic University abides by and expects members of its community to abide by the laws of the State prohibiting the possession, use or trafficking of illegal drugs. To ensure that this is the case, the University will employ drug testing as an aid to providing a drug-free environment for life and learning.

Rationale

The problem of drug use is one which has infiltrated our higher institutions in Nigeria and this menace only leads to poor academic performance and engenders a culture of violence which makes serious academic work impossible in any institution.

Students who get involved with drugs endanger themselves and all the members of the university community.

To ensure that such a thing never occurs in Pan-Atlantic University we will test students for illicit drug use. These tests are meant to deter students from drug abuse.

Policy

- Pan-Atlantic University is taking a zero-tolerance stance on the issue of drug abuse.
- The University will occasionally conduct drug tests on its students in a bid to create a drug-free environment which is required for life and honest academic pursuit.
- All students of Pan-Atlantic University are subject to this drug testing regime.
- The students to be tested will be determined by the University by random selection; after an incident or where reasonable suspicion of drug use exists.
- Refusal, by a student, to show up for a drug test will be seen by the University as a failed drug.
- If a student is found to have tampered with test samples, it is considered that the student has failed the drug test.

- A failed drug test could amount to expulsion from the University.

- If a student is caught in possession of prohibited drugs, no test will be required to impose sanctions.
- Drug testing will be done in line with laid down procedure.
- The University will, in carrying out this policy, keep information confidential. Access to the information will be on a need to know basis.
- Information on drug test results will be kept separate from the student's academic records

Guidelines

See drug testing procedure document

Scope

This policy applies to all students of the Pan-Atlantic University (PAU)
